

Our clinic is part of the University of Toronto Practice- and Community-Based Learning And Research Network (UPLEARN)

A Practice-Based Learning and Research Network is a group of primary care clinics that work together to learn from everyday care, answer real-world questions, and improve services for patients and communities.

Who We Work With

- Patients & families
- Clinicians & researchers
- Learners
- Policymakers
- Community partners

What We Support

- Research
- Quality improvement
- Medical education
- Health policy evaluation
- Community engagement

Why It Matters

- Build a continuously improving community
- Turn research knowledge into actionable practice

Learn more

- Visit <https://dfcm.utoronto.ca/uplearn>

- Scan the QR code

