

ACADEMIC FAMILY PHYSICIAN (with Family Medicine Obstetrics Experience)
ACADEMIC URBAN FAMILY HEALTH TEAM
DEPARTMENT OF FAMILY & COMMUNITY MEDICINE
ST. JOSEPH'S HEALTH CENTRE, UNITY HEALTH TORONTO

St. Joseph's Health Centre (SJHC) academic Urban Family Health Team is inviting applications from qualified family physicians for an academic staff physician position. The successful candidate is ideally an experienced family physician with a fellowship in Family Medicine Obstetrics or 3-5+ years of family medicine obstetrical experience. The candidate must have a demonstrated interest in working with vulnerable populations, and in order to better serve the needs of our patient population, we are looking for a candidate that is also committed to providing comprehensive primary care to gender diverse and trans populations. The candidate must hold an MD degree and certification in Family Medicine from the College of Family Physicians of Canada and be eligible for, if not already hold, an academic appointment within the Department of Family and Community Medicine at the University of Toronto. The start date is ideally July 1, 2024, but can be flexible under specific circumstances.

The responsibilities of the successful candidate will include provision of excellent clinical care and clinical teaching to undergraduate and postgraduate learners. The family medicine obstetrics portion of the position is with the St. Joe's Toronto Primary Care Obstetrics group (www.stjoesfamilyjob.com). The responsibilities of the successful candidate will include hard call for family medicine obstetrics (~1 in 15), coverage of the Early Pregnancy Management Clinic (EPMC) while on call, some c-section assist coverage, and supervision of family medicine residents.

The clinical FTE for the position is between 0.6-0.8 FTE. Additional academic leadership roles are in addition to the clinical time. The responsibilities of the successful candidate will include provision of excellent clinical care and clinical teaching to undergraduate and postgraduate learners. The individual must be a strong team player and have demonstrated a commitment to academic scholarship. Quality improvement experience is an asset.

SJHC academic Urban Family Health Team, based within the Department of Family and Community Medicine and the Primary and Community Care Program at Unity Health Toronto, is strongly committed to diversity and intentional inclusion within its community and particularly encourages applications from racialized persons of colour, women, Indigenous/Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, 2SLGBTQIA+ persons and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas. We are strongly committed to the care of marginalized and disadvantaged populations, with expertise in addiction medicine, palliative care, low-risk obstetrics and care of the elderly. SJHC is a fully accredited community teaching hospital within the Unity Health Toronto network, serving Toronto's west-end. SJHC provides care to a culturally and economically diverse population of about 530,000. Unity Health Toronto's values center around Inclusivity, Community, Excellence, Compassion and Human Dignity.

Qualified candidates are invited to forward a letter of interest including curriculum vitae via e-mail, no later than April 30, 2024 to:
